As you complete this application, some points you should know:

- The Vermont HIV/AIDS Community Advisory Group (otherwise known as the Vermont CAG) is a group of concerned community members who examine Vermont's HIV prevention and HIV/AIDS service needs on an ongoing basis. The Mission Statement of the CAG is "to promote effective HIV Care and Prevention Programs in the state of Vermont." The Purpose is: "The CAG acts in an advisory capacity to the Vermont Department of Health HIV/AIDS/STD/HEP C Program on issues of HIV/AIDS prevention and care."
- The CAG is comprised of two main committees, a Prevention committee and a Services/Care committee with ad hoc sub-committees as determined by the group. They help determine how HIV/AIDS prevention and service/care programs are designed and funded in Vermont.
- The entire CAG meets once every other month in a central Vermont location. Current meetings are scheduled for the last Tuesday of the month from 11:00 am – 3:00 pm. The ad hoc and sub-committees of the CAG meet as needed. There is a stipend and travel reimbursement available for members who are not participating as part of their regular job. Most members can expect to invest 8-10 hours on a monthly basis.
- The CAG reflects the diverse communities that are most impacted by HIV/AIDS. If you identify with, or are allied with, one or more of these and want to get involved, please consider joining the Vermont HIV/AIDS Community Advisory Group. Share your knowledge, expertise and/or life experience. You will learn a lot, meet some great people, and most importantly, help to improve HIV/AIDS prevention and care services in Vermont. Bring your voice to the CAG – please apply now!
- Every effort will be made to keep information shared by applicants and participants in the Community Advisory application process confidential. Since the CAG is a public entity, some CAG documents may be made available as public records (including names, but not contact information or personal information, of members). Efforts are made to protect the identities of individual participants where possible. PLEASE NOTE: Completed applications are reviewed by CAG members only, and not shared with the public at large.
- Please take a few minutes to review this application before filling it out. If you need assistance to complete this or need it translated into another language please contact VDH at 800/882.2437. Application Section 1: Representation

The Vermont CAG is made up of people from the communities most affected by HIV/AIDS and those who are active in helping stop the spread of HIV and ensure services are available. We seek members who offer a variety of experiences and expertise, including direct life experience. In order to assemble a group that reflects this diversity, we ask that you indicate areas with which you identify personally and/or feel comfortable representing in the following questions:

1) How would you summarize your involvement, experience with, or knowledge of the issues faced by individuals or groups at increased risk of HIV infection, or people living with HIV and AIDS? (This could include personal or professional experience – examples could include but are not limited to being a man who has sex with men, having worked with injection drug users, being HIV positive or having a family member living with HIV/AIDS, or volunteering in correctional settings or a homeless shelter.)

2) The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) require the Vermont CAG to report on the basic demographic information of its members. This information also helps the group better reflect the diverse HIV prevention needs of Vermonters at increased risk. To the extent you are comfortable, please share the following:

8) Please describe anything else you would like to share with us about yourself or your experiences.

Application Section 3: Potential Conflicts of Interest

On the first page of this application, points were outlined about the CAG's involvement in determining HIV/AIDS prevention and services funding and priorities in Vermont. The Vermont CAG is not directly involved in overseeing how HIV/AIDS prevention and services funds are spent; the role of the CAG is primarily advisory to the Vermont Department of Health. However, because decisions made by the CAG impact the priority given to various prevention programs, it is very important to avoid conflicts of interest. Members of CAG who have a financial interest in any decision being discussed must reveal their interest to the group and abstain from voting on the specific issue. A person has a financial interest when they are an employee, volunteer, or board member of an organization that could receive funds as a result of a decision made by CAG, or if they access services offered by an organization.

9) Please disclose any potential conflicts of interest that you have or are aware of that might enter into the decision making process of the CAG. This could include your present or former employer, a volunteer or paid position you have, or involvement with an organization through which you access HIV/AIDS related programming.
